An Add on Course - Literary Terms & Literary Speeches

Programme Outcome

A student embarking upon the study of literature for the first time is bound to be daunted by the complexity of literary terms and literary speeches. This short programme introduced them to concept through lucid, brief notes, supplemented with examples of every stage if features a brief overview of major terms, a knowledge of which has proved essential as student move on to studying complex texts later in their academic careers. It has provided them with a sound foundation in basic literary terms and theoretical concept. Some small test have proved that given an opportunity they group & learn new literary concept and also develop a taste for it.

An Add On Course on 'Literary Terms and Literary Speeches'
Academic Session 2019 - 2020

Summary Report

The Add On course entitled "Literary Terms and Literary Speeches" was conducted by the Department of English in the academic session 2019-20. The duration of the course was thirty hours in which 25 students were admitted. Literature is a proportionate combination of two things, one is fact and another is fancy. Equally literature has a double purpose to perform, one is to teach and another is to entertain. Teaching is always done by the way of fact and entertains with the help of fancy. In this course many important Literary Terms has been taught and discussed in the classroom and in addition some audio-visual clips of Literary Speeches were shown in the classroom. The students completed the course successfully. The course will truly prove very useful and beneficial for the students.
